She learned about their learning styles and abilities through observation and interaction, and through this assessment, adjusted accordingly to help them learn best. At times, Shaylynn asked yes or no questions when an choice-oriented question or open-ended question would have been more successful, which takes some time to remember in these settings.

General Comments:	Shaylynn demonstrates a passion for learning and for early education. She consistently had a positive attitude and interacted with the students with excitement warmth. Her lessons and interactions with the children fostered creativity and growth. The students were always excited to see her, and seemed very trusting of her from the beginning of her time with us. She was able to adjust activities accordingly when students needed more or less challenge. I believe Shaylynn possesses all the tools required to be very successful with this age in planning and implementing impactful, fun, and creative lessons. As a professional, Shaylynn was a joy to work with.
